FÉLIX CASTRO

Anglo concertina, button accordion
Galician bagpipes Bb, close fingering

CÁSTOR CASTRO

Wooden flutes, bouzouki, ocarina, vulture flute, jews harp

Graduates in Law (Salamanca University), lawyers, musicians and researchers in traditional music and Galician ethnography. Félix Castro also has a degree in Anthropology (UNED).
Founders together with Igor Medio and Ruma Barbero of the Asturian folk group Felpeyu in 1991.

Members of the Gomes Mouro Traditional Music Classroom in Ourense, the traditional quintet Os Lubicáns, and Sólidos Galicianos, regular collaborators in Pancho Alvarez's musical projects. They investigate the wooden flute and the diatonic accordion in Galicia as well as the bagpipes close fingering, an ancient way of playing, and the recovery of the memory and repertoire of the bagpipers and musicians from Ourense, mainly Faustino Santalices. They have collaborated on twenty national and international albums and compilations.

Among their most notable publications are «Limia's Traditional Musicians Catalog», or book-CD «Limia Sounds», the «Faustino Santalices. Galician musical tradition» exhibition and catalogue., and the congress and subsequent activities. They are collaborators of the Ronsel project for the recovery of Galician intangible heritage and of the European program Oralities, and musical advisers to the TVG program Alalá.

In other areas, their ethnographic research is currently focused on the figure of Manuel Blanco Romasanta, the Werewolf of Esgos, in whom they made important discoveries. Félix is also specialized in the Book of Saint Cyprian, demonic books, medieval grimoires, the disenchantment of treasures, and the occult bibliography of the XIX and XX Century, on which he has published many articles in Spanish and international ethnography and bibliophile magazines. He organized the exhibitions «Demon books» (Museum of the Provincial Council of Lugo), «Saint Cyprian the Magician: About prayers, ciprianillos and treasures» (Ethnological Museum of Ribadavia, 2020-2022) and is even claimed from all over the world to disenchant treasures and magical advice. In this field, the plagiarisms that have been done far exceed his literary production.

TOR represents for them the return to their musical roots in folk and live concerts, after two decades dedicated mainly to musical research.

XOSÉ LIZ

Bouzouki, acoustic guitar, mandolin

Musician of recognized national and international prestige in the field of Galician folk and Celtic Music. More than thirty record productions with the best Galician artists (Cristina Pato, Susana Seivane, Rodrigo Romaní, Anxo Pintos, Anxo Lorenzo, Begoña Riobo...) and his usual presence on the best stages of this music (Interceltic Festival of L'orient, Celtic Connections, Piping Live, Vall D'aOsta, Scottish Weekend...) endorse the career of this multi-instrumentalist from Vigo.

He combines his work as a professional musician, producer, arranger and composer; with his work as teacher of flute and plucked strings at the prestigious school of folk and traditional music E-Trad from Vigo city since 2009.

He recently released his first solo album «El Cantar de los flautares» as a multi-instrumentalist.

ÁLVARO IGLESIAS

Double bass

Trained in classical music, he develops his career in traditional Galician music.

Among his teachers are the Lithuanian teacher Iminas Kucinskas, Cris Gándara, Camilo Freire and Carlos Méndez (teacher at the School of Advanced Musical Studies of Galicia and member of the Royal Philharmonic of Galicia).

He was member of bands such as Tres, Carlos Núñez, Pancho Alvarez, Faltriqueira, and the bagpiper Anxo Lorenzo, participating with all of them throughout his more than twenty years of career in numerous festivals of the highest international level, such as the Cambrigde Folk Festival , Rock in Rio, Womad, Ortigueira Celtic World Festival, Celtic Connections, Lorient Interceltic Festival, William Kennedy Piping Festival, Celtica, Gooikoorts, etc.

Among his most outstanding works, there are recordings, compositions or collaborations in more than twenty albums and documentaries for TVG or Discovery Channel. He also made the BSO for the films of the production company Zinemusik, «Luarada» (2020) and "Devoured at night" (2020).

Currently, he combines being part of and collaborating with bands such as Arán, Entre trastes, Ardentía, Son de Seu, or Rodrigo Román, among others, with being a producer, composer, arranger and freelancer in studio recordings or live collaborations with different artists and bands of the national and international music scene.

He has released two solo CDS: «Vagalume» (Zouma Records, 2021) and «Alma» (Zouma Records, 2018), they are the first albums in the history of Celtic music in which the solo instrument is a double bass, playing, along with acoustic guitar or bouzouki, melodies and own compositions always based on traditional Galician music.

TOR · REPERTOIRE ·

The band's repertoire is made up of medleys or sets of original instrumental themes taken from the Galician tradition, with special attention to the pipers and musicians from the inland areas. The main source is the field work of the Arquivo Castro Vicente (Cástor and Félix Castro), and its documentary and sound collections, focused above all on the wooden flute and diatonic accordion, as well as styles of playing bagpipes from little-known regions, such as A Limia, Frieiras, and Navia among others.

Along with the melodic line guided mainly by instruments of the Galician tradition such as bagpipes, wooden flute or button accordion, and other more atypical ones such as the Anglo-concertina, the harmonic part is completed by the bouzouki and the double bass, forming an acoustic sound, authentically vintage like the classics of Celtic folk, and at the same time consistent with the works that are done today in European Atlantic folk.

Powerful sets of muiñeiras, jotás, alboradas, marchas and piruxaldas, followed with other more leisurely themes such as alalás, waltzes or mazurkas, showing a wide range of sonorities and atmospheres.
